Frances Aiken

CLAHISCHO

FOREWORD

"For I glimpsed into the future,
As far as the human eyes could see.
I saw the vision of the world,
And all the wonders that would be."

During your years at CHS the molds of your future have been set. These molds contain the happy, sad, and exciting hours of the years you will never forget. In the future, as you look through this CLAHISCHO, we hope that it will help to recall the many challenges and events in the 1960 school year and the way these happenings molded your future.

APPRECIATION

DAD

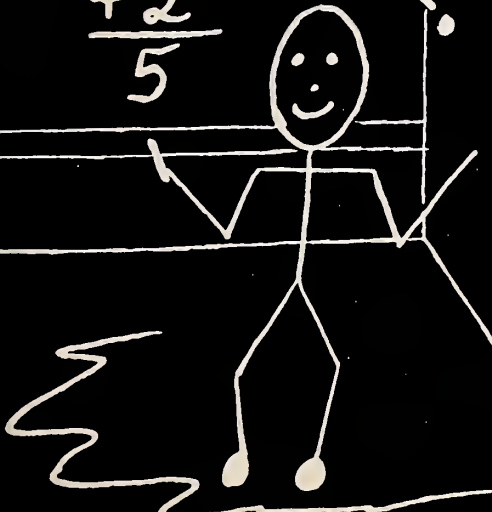

In appreciation to our parents, we the graduating class of 1960 would like to dedicate this page as a small token of our love to you. We appreciate the many opportunities you have given us, for the love and care you have shown us and for the patience and guidance you have rendered to us. Graduation from this institution of learning would not have been possible had it not been for our parents. Whatever success we achieve in life we owe to you, Mom and Dad.

Principal

Mr. J. O. Waters

To the Seniors of 1960:

"Your accomplishments in Clayton School will always be remembered. May your outlook on life, and your attitude toward your teachers and classmates never change.

I wish for you the best in everything that you undertake to do, and may all the joys of life come your way.

As the future citizens of our State and Nation, you have aspirations that will carry you far, and will enable you to take your rightful place in a complicated society."

Superintendent

Mr. E. S. Simpson

Superintendent of Johnson County
Public Schools

"As you travel along the highway of life, please remember the counsel, advice, and instruction you have received from your parents and teachers.

It is the wish of all of us that you will have much success and happiness in life."

P. T. A. Officers

Mrs. Shelbon Hall, secretary, and Mrs. Billy Hardee, president, work on the coming program for the P. T. A.

School Board

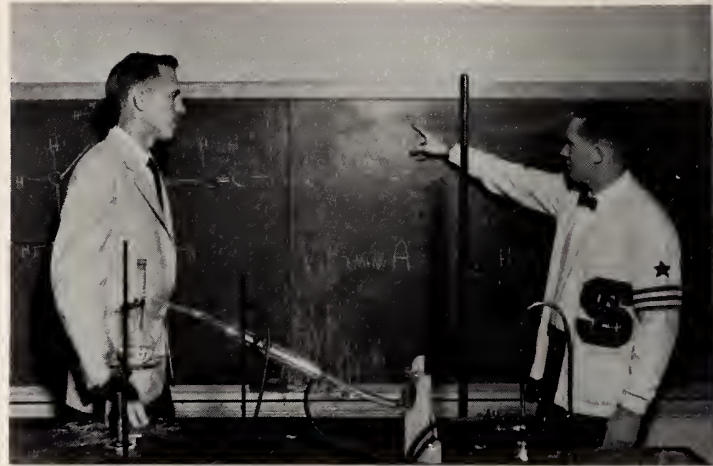

Mr. Harvey Adams, Mr. James O. Waters, Mr. Maynard Knott, Mr. Woodley Warrick, and Mr. Dewey Huggins look over school records to help improve our school.

High School Faculty

Music directors, Mrs. Henderson, Mr. Bryan, and Mr. Beach, discuss the various fields of music.

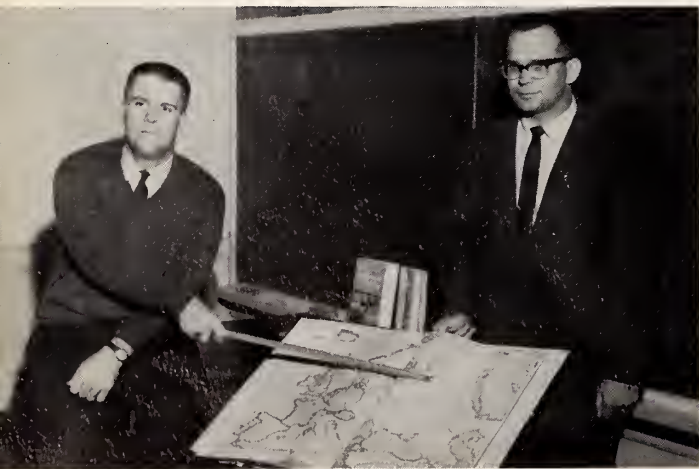

Science comes to life under our science instructors, Mr. Woodard and Mr. Trotman.

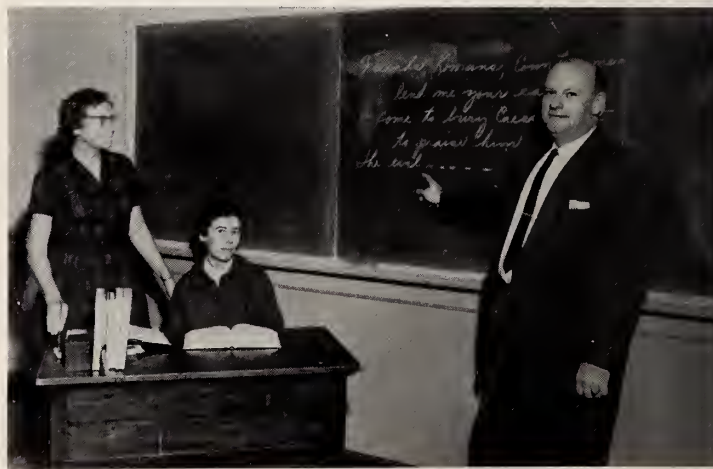

Mr. Vinson, our guidance counselor, discusses the entering of college with one of the seniors.

The vocational teachers, Mr. Sorrel, Mrs. Aiken, and Miss MacMillian, look over the school budget for the coming year.

Mr. Nixon and Mr. Vinson, our history teachers, point out some of the important places of Europe.

Our language teachers, Miss Richardson, Miss Jackson, and Mr. Fulmer, give us the basic fundamentals of Shakespeare.

Organization

F. T. A.

Mr. Vinson points out the aims and plans of the club for the coming year.

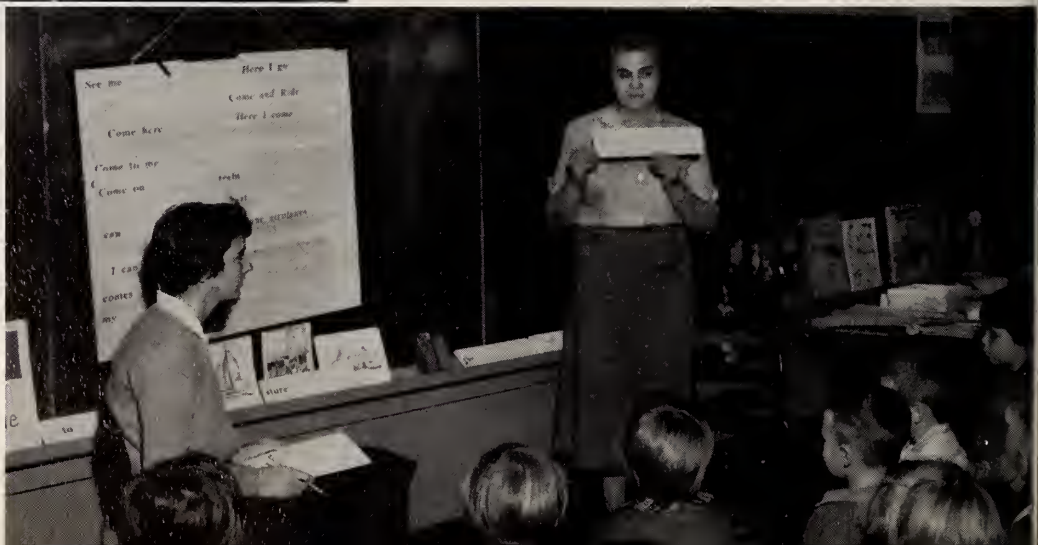

The F. T. A. Club is made up of qualified members who show a genuine interest in teaching as a career. The club, under the guidance of Mr. Vinson, has done many creditable things for our school this year. They have presented a chapel program, a tea for the teachers, prepared bulletin boards and assisted the school whenever possible.

Members of the club listen attentively to the program.

Cecelia Dixon observes an experienced teacher at work. This phase of F. T. A. is invaluable to its members as they see teaching first hand.

French Club

Old French Club members hold separate meeting at which they discuss the initiation for the incoming members.

The French Club is made up of students who have taken French I or II and who have maintained an 85 average or better. The primary aim of the club is to promote a better understanding of France, its people, and its language. One of the highlights of the year is the initiation of new members. The French Club holds meetings once every two weeks in school and once each month at night.

Two new members dip for dimes as part of their French initiation.

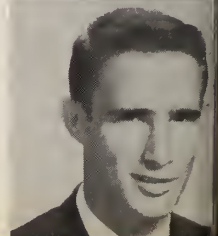

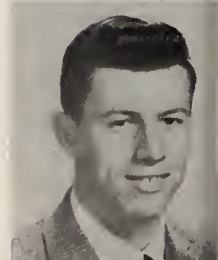

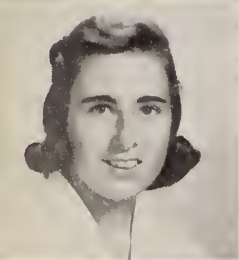

The French Club of 1959-60 assembled with their sponsor, Mr. John C. Fulmer.

Student

COUNCIL OFFICERS: Shelton Jones, President; Dan Daley, Mary Cooper, Larry Jones.

Realizing the need for training in leadership and citizenship, the student council furnishes a fertile field for preparation in government and service to the community. Through its many school projects it has made a name for itself and has done many worthwhile things for the growth of the school.

The student council has co-operated in the promotion of better school spirit, fire drills, dances and general betterment of our school under the capable leadership of their sponsor, Mr. J. O. Waters and Shelton Jones, President.

Council

One of the major duties of all the Student Council members is to conduct a monthly fire drill.

Character

Mr. Waters talks to the members of the Student Council about plans for the coming years.

Leadership

The annual Christmas Dance which is sponsored by the Student Council is a big event in C. H. S. life.

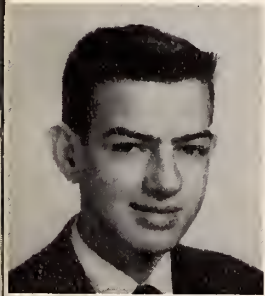

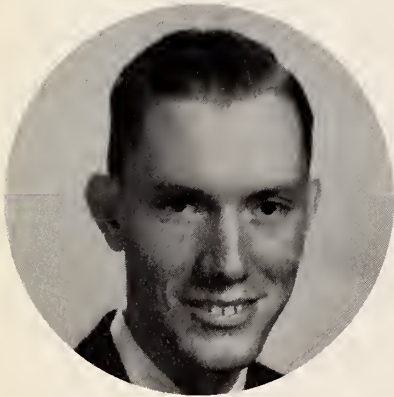

Service

Beta Club

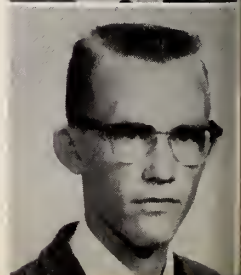

President
WALLACE HOLLOWAY

Sponsor
MISS SARAH RICHARDSON

As shown in the Beta Club emblem, the Beta Club stands for three things: Achievement, Character, and Leadership. To become a member of the Beta Club one has to maintain an average of 90 or above. One must also show such qualities as character and leadership. An event which is looked forward to by all is the Beta Club Convention which is held each year in the spring. Most of the Beta members try to attend the convention. The Beta Club works at varied projects each year to make money for the betterment of our school. Under the capable leadership of Miss Richardson and Wallace Holloway, the Club has made great progress.

One of the Beta Club projects for the year has been the selling of hose. The following pictures take you along with the Beta Club through an entire project.

Now the project has ended. The Beta Club has made another contribution to our school.

F. H. A. Club

The F. H. A. is under the leadership of these capable officers and sponsor. They are pictured making plans for this year's program.

The F. H. A. Club is made up of girls who have taken Home Economics. Under Miss MacMillian, sponsor, the girls learn timely tips on homemaking that will be extremely useful to them in later life. The Club sponsors money making projects throughout the year in order to purchase extra materials needed in the Home Economics lab.

These girls practice sewing which is an art that will be useful to them in later life.

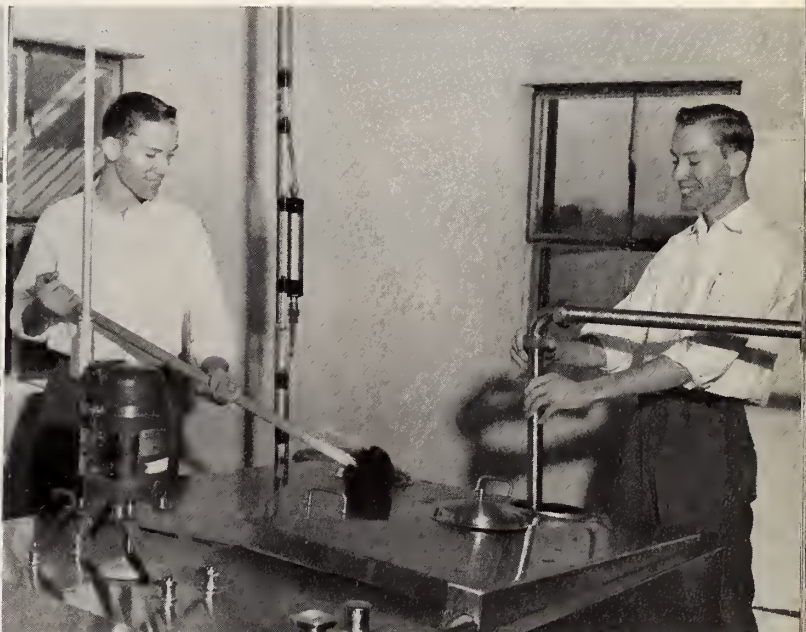

4-H Club

Senior Club President, Catherine Harrelson, presides at a joint meeting of the 4-H Club.

Paula Justice begins to put her 4-H training to use in the home.

Wallace and Wade Holloway keep their modern dairy cooler spic and span.

The 4-H Club is an organization which teaches and guides students in all fields of work. For the girls, it enables them to be better housewives, better cooks, and have better personal grooming. The boys learn more about the improvement of farming methods and crop development. Prizes and scholarships are awarded to outstanding members of the 4-H clubs each year.

Safety Patrol

MR. VINSON, Sponsor

The safety patrol was formed to protect the children of Clayton while they are going to and from school. Under the leadership of Mr. Vinson, the Safety Patrol has learned traffic laws, as well as the proper methods of watching for school children during the morning and evening traffic rushes at the close of school.

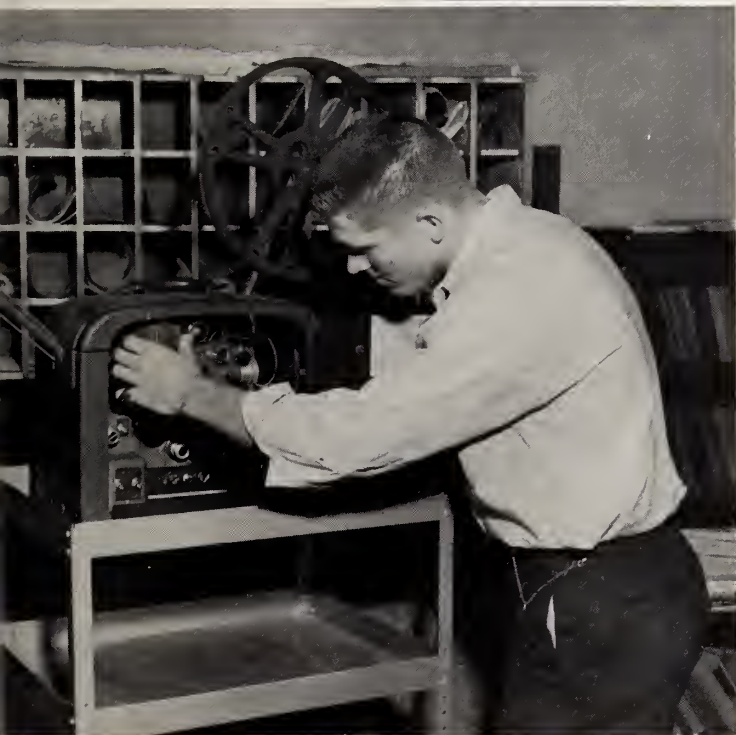

Mr. Vinson demonstrates the proper method of stopping cars so that children can cross the street.

The Safety Patrol puts into practice what they have learned.

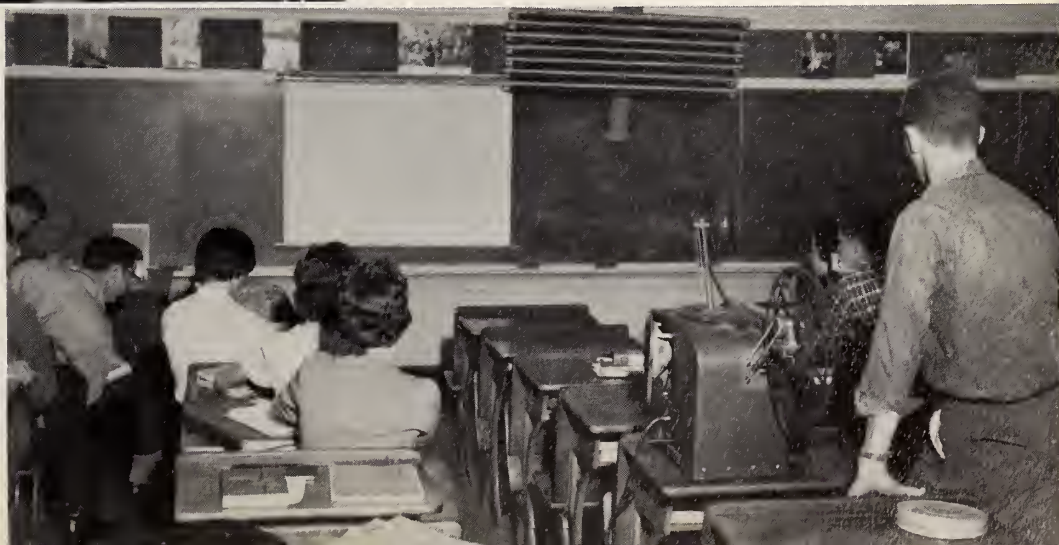

Audio-Visual

Two members of the Audio-Visual Club talk over the new tape recording machine.

This club meets every two weeks under the direction of Mr. Waters. The purpose of the club is to give its members a better knowledge of the school's Audio-Visual equipment. The members of the club assist the teachers by operating the audio-visual equipment for them.

Eugene Turner puts his audio-visual training to work for a faculty member.

The Hi-Lites Staff, under the capable guidance of Mrs. Aiken, publishes the Hi-Lites, our school paper, every six weeks. The paper is enjoyed by both students and faculty. The story of the Hi-Lite will be told on the next page.

The Hi-Lites begins with the cutting of stencils, a job that is shared by all students.

Mrs. Aiken, Sylvia Sneed, and Becky Holder prepare to run copies of the Hi-Lites off on the Rex-O-Graph machine.

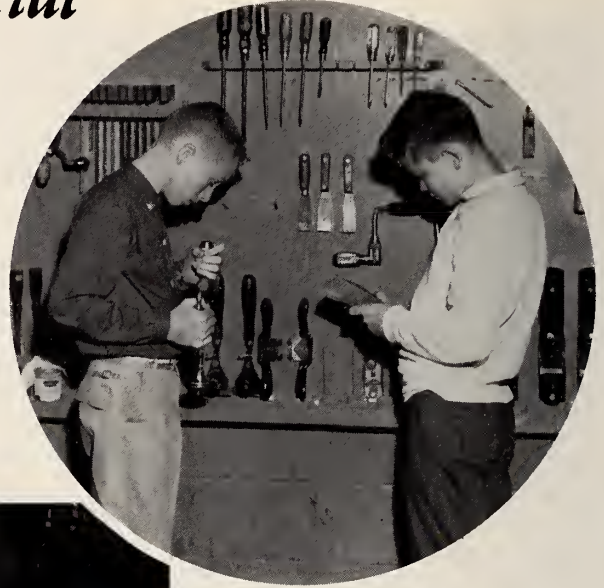

Next comes the stapling together of the pages.

When the Hi-Lites is finished, the last job to be done is to give them out to the students. Now the Hi-Lites will be enjoyed by the students and the faculty.

Industrial

The Industrial Arts Department of our school is truly a great asset. Under the direction of Mr. Sorrell the department has made great strides forward. A great amount of equipment is housed in the shop. Here the boys attend class and then put what they have learned to use. The boys receive beneficial training from this department.

Two students take tools out of the rack.

Mr. Sorrell shows the boys the proper way to handle the saw. At times woodworking is a dangerous job.

After much hard work these boys finish their project. These projects will be inspected and graded by Mr. Sorrell.

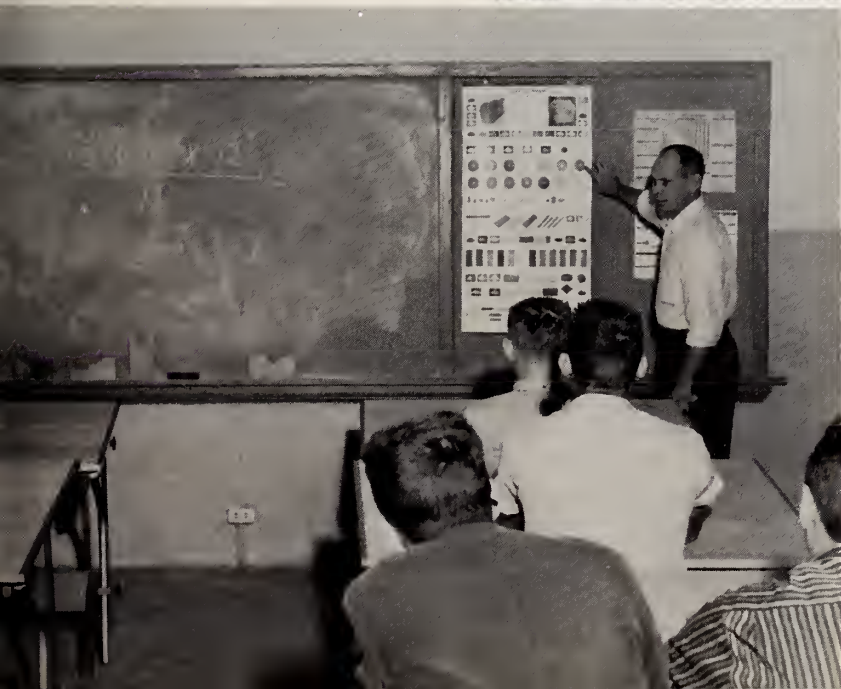

Arts

Mr. Sorrell explains the intricacies of the wood lathe to Eddie Phillips and E. D. Davis. The lathe is one of the most important tools in the shop. The lathe is used for rounding and designing wood.

After work comes cleaning up. At the end of the period the shop is swept thoroughly. A clean shop makes for better work on the part of all students as well as the machines.

In every course there has to be some class work. In the modern Industrial Arts classroom Mr. Sorrell shows the boys one of the many phases in the art of woodworking.

HIGH SCHOOL

The Senior High School Chorus, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Henderson, has made great strides this year. The chorus provides enertainment for students and people of the community. The Christmas program given by the Glee Club was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Henderson, our chorus director who recently graduated from Woman's College, has been very successful in providing us with a high school chorus of which everyone is proud.

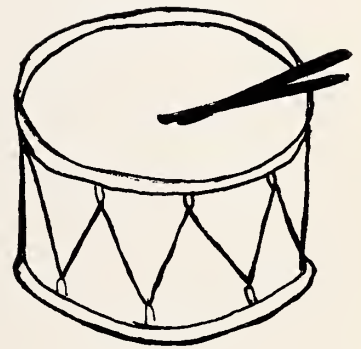

Since the Clayton Band has been organized it has contributed a great deal to the school as well as the community. It represents the school in parades, sporting events and in daily activities.

Since its beginning, only 6 years ago, the Clayton band has made remarkable progress. It has increased in number and quality since Mr. Beach came to Clayton. We have found him a capable

The time and effort of the band members is often overlooked, but the hours spent diligently practicing have been rewarding.
